Lawrence To Begin Season
Of DebatingLawrence Squads To Hold Non-
Decision Contests
Soon

Opening their schedule with non-decision debates before Brillion and Chilton audiences next Wednesday and Thursday, Lawrence debating teams will swing into what promises to be one of the most strenuous as well as interesting forensic schedules ever arranged here.

The Lawrence affirmative team will clash with the Lawrence negative team in the initial debate at Brillion on Wednesday and again at Chilton the following evening. These will be the first of a series of non-decision debates, during the course of which Ripon, Carroll, Beloit, and Milton of Wisconsin and Lake Forest of Illinois will be met.

The personnel of the Lawrence teams has not yet been definitely decided, since Coach Franzke will have to find new men to take the places of such stars as Hardt, Henoch, Bird, and Christiansen who were lost through graduation last year. Clapp, Fink, Verhage, Barnard, and Strossenreuther, veterans of last year's squad, and the new men, Voeks, Mueller, Manser, Schmidt, Jacobson, Wiegand, and Cannon, have been working hard on the two sides of the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill, which is to be discussed this year.

After these non-decision debates at Brillion and Chilton, the teams will be pointed for a decision debate with Occidental college of California before the Rotary club at Menasha. Two Lawrence debaters will be selected to discuss the McNary-Haugen bill with two speakers from the western college. Occidental college has established an enviable record in forensics on the Pacific coast and the men representing it this year are said to be especially able speakers. Indications are that the debate will be a close and interesting one.

"Toblerone" Candy
Is Best Seller Of
Y. W. Candy Store

"I Miss My Swiss," is the wail of the Sage coed when the supply of bars at the Y.W.C.A. candy store runs low. "Toblerone", a genuine Swiss importation, is the big seller at present. It is a tempting combination of Swiss milk chocolate, almonds, and pure Alpine honey.

The Sage candy store is a Y.W.C.A. project which supplements the annual financial drive. It was started last year by Bernice Johnson, '27, treasurer of Y.W.C.A., and under her management has become an increasingly profitable venture. Previous to this undertaking by Y.W.C.A., candy stores in the dormitories have been private ventures usually proving unprofitable.

Elected To Office
In Historical Group

At a recent meeting of the Wisconsin society of the American Historical association, held last Monday, January 3, in Milwaukee, Professor John B. MacHarg was elected executive secretary of the Wisconsin branch of the society. At this meeting, Dr. MacHarg spoke on "The Work of the Association."

A campaign for $1,000,000, to be used for research and the furthering of the general work of the association, has been launched by the national association. Each state society, organized by those interested in historical organizations, will be required to work toward the realization of the million dollar fund.

Announce Try-Outs
For College Orator

Try-outs in oratory to determine who will represent Lawrence in the State Oratorical contest this year will be held in the Phoenix room, Main hall, next Wednesday, January 19, according to an announcement made by Ray Fink, president of the Forensic board.

A prize of $25.00 for first place and $10.00 for second place has been offered by the Forensic board, and it is expected that a few more men will enter the try-outs since these rewards have been offered. The oration must be written by contestants themselves and must be about eighteen hundred words in length. Any men wishing to enter these try-outs should get in touch with Coach Franzke at once.

Miles Will Take Part of Dettloff
In Sunset PlayEarly Ticket Sale Predicts Large House For "The Goose Hangs
High" January 21

Owing to the continued illness of Edward Dettloff who was to have taken the part of Bernard Ingals in "The Goose Hangs High", which will be presented by Sunset Players, January 21, at Lawrence Memorial chapel, the part has been definitely assigned to Kenneth Miles. Oscar Frederiksen will play the part of Noel Derby, which was to have been taken by Miles. The rest of the cast remains the same.

With rehearsals being held daily, the technique of the play is being perfected. Miss Lucille Welty, who is directing the production, has been meeting small groups of the cast in order to clear up any points not handled in regular practice.

A satisfactory early sale of tickets was reported at a meeting of Sunset Players Thursday evening and it is expected that a great number will see the play when it is presented on January 21. Especial effort is being made to interest townspeople in the production.

The stage is to be set early next week and two of next week's rehearsals will be held there, with a dress rehearsal on Thursday evening.

Dr. Mursell Plays
At Chapel Tuesday

Dr. James Mursell of the department of education, entertained at convocation Tuesday with piano selections, "Turkish March" from the Ruins of Athens by Beethoven; "Waltz" by Brahms, arranged by Friedman; and "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 12" by Liszt. As an encore Dr. Mursell played "Military Polonaise" by Chopin.

Blues Defeat
Oshkosh Five;
Score 28-21Teachers Put Up Big Struggle
in Tuesday's Cage
Contest

In a game which indicated the comparative strength of Lawrence, Ripon and Beloit, the Blues, with some difficulty, defeated Oshkosh Normal last Tuesday night in a game at Oshkosh by the score of 28 to 21. This was the third victory in four starts for the Christophmen, who lost the first game of the season to the University of Chicago.

The Lawrence team seemed to have an off night in their encounter with the Normalites. Their play was ragged and lacked the usual aggressiveness which was characteristic of some of the earlier games. The offense seemed to lag, and there was also a slowness in taking the defense formation. At several stages of the game the passing of the Lawrence team was extremely bad, and it was not of the usual high standard of the team.

Oshkosh took an early lead in the game Tuesday night when Plenke made good a free throw on Hillman's foul. Oshkosh held this lead until just before the close of the first half when a shot by Grove tied the score and another soon after by Hillman put Lawrence in the lead 14 to 12.

At the start of the second half, Coach Christoph put Grove back at guard and Sund at center. Briese was at the other guard, and Heide-man and Clarke were at the two forward berths. This was an effort to find the smoothest possible working combination.

Heide-man led the scoring the last half, engaging three baskets; Clarke had also made three ringers the first half. Hanke was substituted for Sund in the second half, and soon after shot a basket from the corner of the floor. Toward the end of the half, Bent took Clarke's place at forward, and was later replaced by Portz. Portz, in the few minutes in which he played, gave a good account of himself, and with a little more experience should develop into a valuable man for Coach Christoph. Portz caged the last basket for the Blues.

The result of this game gives some indication of the comparative strength of Lawrence, Ripon, and Beloit. The Normal team had previously defeated Beloit in two games during Christmas vacation. Ripon barely managed to eke out a win from the Normalites last week. These games would seem to indicate that Lawrence and Ripon are evenly matched and both a trifle superior to Beloit.

Tuesday night, January 18, the Oshkosh Normal team plays a return game at Appleton in Armory G.

Man Will Adopt Whiskers
To Retain His Individuality

Coeds, beware! The hour of retribution is at hand. Lowly man, so long the butt of coed whims, fancies, and fashion, has at last begun to kick over the traces and assert himself in the position rightfully his. Women have copied masculine haircuts, taken real he-men into camp by wearing shirts, ties, and knickers, and have made man's greatest privilege, that of a peaceful smoke, a thing effeminate: but they have not conquered.

Man, driven to his last line of defense, has begun to fight. He still has an ace up his sleeve, and he now is going to use it. From now on whiskers and moustaches are to be the badge of real he-man masculinity. No longer able to call his haircut his own, he is going to have something left by which to maintain his self-respect.

Engler Speaks On Student Conference

"A quest for truth!" This was the purpose of the National Student's Conference held at Milwaukee, Dec. 28 to Jan. 1, as explained in a talk given by Carl Engler at a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Thursday evening, January 13, at Brokaw Hall.

"The whole conference," said Mr. Engler, "was embodied in a pageant which portrayed the worship of various peoples in different religions from earliest times to the present, climaxing with the religion of the New Testament."

"The topics discussed were war, racial problems and the present economic system. The majority of students were not in favor of the present competitive economic system in which money profits are the goal."

"In regard to war the decisions were varied. Three hundred twenty-seven voted that they would never support any war. Three hundred fifty-six refused to commit themselves. Seven hundred and forty stated that they would support some wars and not others. Ninety-five were willing to support any war which their government might declare."

"All but eleven were in favor of giving all races equal cultural and educational opportunities on the campus. The eleven believed that some races are inferior and as such should be kept in their place."

"Some of the important speakers were: Dr. Milikan, the physicist, G. A. Studdert-Kennedy, chaplain to King George of England, and Bruce Curry who spent several days on this campus last fall."

Bagg Receives Honor
In Scientific Society

Dr. Rufus A. Bagg has been honored by election to associate membership in the American Museum of Natural History society of New York. The honor comes in recognition of his museum and geographical efforts.

The organization of the American Museum of Natural History is composed of leading educators and experts in the field of the natural sciences. The society publishes a semi-monthly bulletin which gives the current data on all things of a scientific nature.

Attends Meeting Of Economic Association

Dr. Waldo F. Mitchell, professor of business administration, attended the annual meeting of the American Economic association at St. Louis December 28-30.

Dr. Mitchell read a paper on "Interest Rates in Relation to Prices." Other men to discuss this topic were Dr. Frank Fetter of Princeton, Dr. Irving Fisher of Yale, Dr. W. E. Mitchell of Columbia, Dr. Palyi of the University of Chicago and Dr. Knight of the University of Iowa.

Lawrence To Commemorate Eightieth Birthday MondayLeads Discussion At Methodist Meeting

"What the Church and Denominational Colleges Should Expect of Each Other" was the subject of a discussion led by Dr. H. M. Wriston before the Methodist Educational association meeting yesterday. The meeting was held in Engston, and Dr. Wriston is spending the rest of this week in Chicago, attending meetings of the Association of American Colleges at the Congress hotel.

The Lawrence president will deliver the annual address at a meeting of the Minnesota Historical society, to be held at St. Paul, Minnesota, on Monday, January 17. "Washington's Foreign Policy" will be his topic. The Minnesota Historical society is convening for the 78th annual time.

"The Freshman Year" will be discussed in an address by Dr. Wriston before a meeting of presidents and deans of Wisconsin colleges in Milwaukee, on Thursday, January 20.

Vote To Form Ariel
Board of Control
At Chapel ThursdayAlso Cast Ballot To Make Purchase of Ariel an All-College Club
Requirement

Two propositions involving the future of the Lawrence Ariel were voted upon at convocation yesterday morning: the first that an Ariel Board of Control be organized, and second that each student be required to purchase one copy of the Ariel. The proposed plans were explained by Dan Hardt, head of the Lawrence News Service.

The Ariel Board of Control would be composed of the editor, business manager, assistant editor, assistant business manager, and three faculty members including the president of the college, the business manager, and one other faculty member. Heretofore, the publication of the Ariel has been left solely in the hands of the business manager and the editor. Under the new system responsibility would be shared, and experience of the past would be available.

The second suggestion voted upon would make the purchase of an Ariel an All-college club requirement, each student paying $3.75 for the book at the time of second semester registration.

Subscription to the Lawrentian has been required of all college students for many years, thereby giving the paper a firm financial footing. That the same procedure would aid the financial situation of the Ariel is the thought which prompted the present suggestion, according to Mr. Hardt.

College Physician
Urges Vaccination
As Safety Measure

Students who have not yet been vaccinated for small pox are urged to do so at once, is the advice of Dr. R. V. Landis, college physician. There are several cases of small pox in the city at the present time, and every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The general lowering of resistance to disease among Lawrence students has prompted Dr. Landis to make this announcement.

Students have continued to take advantage of the infirmary service, and many cases of various ailments are being handled daily. One of the most recent cases was a mild case of chicken pox, contracted by Marjorie Parkinson, '29, a conservatory student. She was sent to the detention hospital last Sunday where she will be forced to remain for two weeks.

15,000 Have Studied
At Lawrence Since
FoundingLawrence Institute Granted Charter
in 1847, One Year Before Wisconsin Became a State

Monday, January 17, marks the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Lawrence. In 1847, one year before Wisconsin became a state, Governor Dodge of Wisconsin Territory signed the charter of the Lawrence Institute.

At the beginning Lawrence adopted a co-educational policy, the charter specifying it to be for the "education of youth generally." It has thus gained the distinction of being the second college in the United States to accept women on the same basis as men.

The land which now makes up the Lawrence campus was once part of a 5,000 acre tract belonging to Eleazer Williams, who claimed to be the lost dauphin of France. It was his intention to set up a kingdom in the Fox River valley. Amos A. Lawrence of Boston, Massachusetts had advanced money to Williams, and when Williams was unable to pay his debts Mr. Lawrence became the owner of the entire 5,000 acres.

In 1846 he made an offer to donate part of the land and the sum of $10,000 for the founding of a school if an additional $10,000 could be raised in the community where the school was to be located. Reverend Sampson brought the proposition before the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church, which voted to raise the money.

The first college building was begun in 1848. It was destroyed by fire in 1853, whereupon the present Main Hall was erected. For years it was the largest building in the vicinity and so became the community meeting place. The first call for Civil War recruits was made from the platform of the room serving as chapel, and there, also, the people gathered to mourn Lincoln's death.

Reverend Sampson was made the first principal of the Institute. In 1853 when the first college class was formed Rev. Edward Cooke of Boston was elected president. The college developed steadily under the successive presidencies of Reverend Cooke, Dr. Russell E. Mason, Dr. George M. Steele, Dr. E. D. Huntley, Dr. Bradford P. Raymond, Dr. Charles W. Gallagher, and Dr. Samuel Plantz.

Period of Rapid Expansion
The thirty years of Dr. Plantz's administration was a period of rapid expansion. The number of volumes in the library was increased from eight thousand to forty-five thousand. The courses of study were increased from 53 to 293. The faculty of nine members became one of sixty-seven and the student body increased accordingly. The endowment grew from $1,000,000 to $1,783,000.

After the death of Dr. Plantz, November, 1924, Dr. Wilson S. Naylor served as acting president for the remainder of the year.

In October 1925 Dr. Henry M. Wriston was inaugurated. He has carried forward the program of expansion and has raised the scholastic standards of Lawrence higher than ever before. Under his regime land has been purchased and plans made for the establishment of a new campus for boys across the Fox river. Here a new boy's gymnasium, freshman boy's dormitory, and fraternity houses will be erected.

Fifteen thousand students have studied at Lawrence and of that number 2,062 have received academic rewards.

NO APPLE SAUCE

Hurried criticism of an act or a condition is often harsh and prejudiced. Realizing this we have, though ranking within, stood by and taken a quiet, comprehensive survey of the two-captain football situation. Treat it as we may, we can find no elevating angles to the whole situation—not even the cry that Lawrence NEEDS two football captains can impress us.

In our opinion—of course we may have the wrong slant entirely—the purpose of the election of a football captain—or captains—is to find a good leader for the football team, and not, as might be suspected from the recent election, a form of parliamentary drill which has for its purpose the promotion of good will between two fraternities.

There is no necessity for going into the details of the case, or trying to offer a solution, although we might at this time point out that a reelection was deemed advisable two years ago in the Christoph-Kotal tie for basketball captainship, and that another reelection took place last year in the Briese-Kotal tie for the same office. It may have been that no one thought of the two captain idea in those cases, but we have a feeling that the paramount reason for holding the reelections was that someone had the interests of the school's athletic reputation at heart.

The ethical question in this case is not whether the two-captain idea will prove a success—whether it will kill two birds with one stone, by improving the relations between Delta Iota and Phi Kappa Alpha, and incidentally improving the football team—that isn't the question.

Had someone decided before the meeting that Lawrence's football team would thrive under the captaincy of two men, and the let-terms had proceeded to elect two men to the office—if the thing had been done that way, we could offer commendation, whether we believed in the system or not. But to have the two captains thrust upon us as the "only solution to fraternity politics" is a piece of asininity we have a right to condemn.

No time could be better than the present to make a plea for the damnation of Greek politics. Last spring we saw the thing organized as skillfully as any Tamany Hall ring—the election returns were a compliment to the Greek's ability to stick to his side regardless of who might be up for office. And now comes the election of two football captains because the ring is so nicely organized that it was impossible to hold an election without the great god Greek Politics holding the whip hand.

The spring election is ever getting nearer. Is this year's election going to be a polished repetition of last year's farce? If we must have combinations, why not band together for a right purpose—the election of the best man?

THE COLLEGE'S BIRTHDAY

On Monday Lawrence college will be eighty years old. Its history, to be found on the front page of this issue, is one of great development and progress.

Five years ago, on the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the college, a spectacular founder's day celebration was held. Since then January 17 has gone by unnoticed. All organizations observe the day of their founding, make it, as a rule, a time of great inspiration. Why then, should the anniversary of the college go unobserved? We suggest that the All-College club take upon its shoulders the problem of fittingly observing the eightieth anniversary of our college.

OPINIONS

TWO CAPTAINS

Question: What do you think of the two captain system for Lawrence?

Anders P. Andersen, alumni secretary: A house with two heads is sure to fall. Favoritism is bound to arise and prove fatal to the coordination that is required in any effective athletic effort where team play is an important factor.

Coach Christoph: The plan certainly seems to be O. K. in every respect. I think the election of two captains will make for better cooperation and spirit among the players. It is, I think, an exceptionally fair way of handling the situation. Other schools have adopted a two captain system, and in every instance it has proved a success. I cannot see why it should not work out equally successfully at Lawrence.

Ray Fink, president of the Forensic Board: I am inclined to view the plan with disfavor because I think precedent and custom have been violated. It has always been the plan here at Lawrence to re-vote in case of a tie. Furthermore no notice was given that there was to be an election. Several of the members were absent when it actually took place, and they had to vote at a different time. The elections are usually held at the banquet of "L" men, but this was not the case this year.

Otis Weinkauf, guard on the football team: I sincerely believe that the selection of two captains will be a good thing, in more ways than one. At first both Bloomer and Ott were disappointed in the election, but now any petty differences they might have had have been cleared up, and I think the system will work successfully. Having two captains will undoubtedly promote friendly rivalry, which will help the team rather than prove a detriment to it.

Al Franzke, professor of public speaking: In my opinion, I think the selection of two captains is the happiest solution to an unfortunate situation. If the squad members will bury the hatchet and forget all petty antagonisms, the two captain system is certain to work out most satisfactorily.

Palmer McConnell, president of the senior class: It seems to me that the plan, although an innovation at Lawrence, will prove to be a satisfactory

one. If any comments are to be made one must remember that ill feeling might have been caused if the deciding vote had been cast. The two captains will cause better cooperation and team spirit, and they are both men who are fit leaders.

George Niedert, business manager of the Ariel: I am not in favor of the plan because, for one thing, tradition has been violated. In previous years a tie vote has always been broken by a re-vote. On one occasion it took four ballots to break a tie. I cannot see why this year should be an exception.

Fred Tresize, treasurer of the Athletic association: I am sorry to see fraternity loyalty taking precedent over college loyalty. It was no doubt the best thing that could be done under the circumstances, for fraternity politics are in such a bad state that next year's conditions would have been aggravated if one captain had been chosen instead of two.

Receives Commission

Maurice Peerenboom, '27, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the infantry of the United States Army reserve corps. He was one of two who passed the examination given at Camp Douglas last summer.

Tabulate Weather Chart

Dr. Bagg's class in physiography is tabulating a weather chart for the month of January in connection with the study of meteorology. The weather map and correlations will be compared with the records of the Green Bay weather officials.

Dr. A. A. Trever has been confined to his home for the past few days with an attack of acute laryngitis.

Ariel Announcement

All the group pictures which were taken at Harwood's studio, are now finished, it has been announced from the Ariel office. These pictures must be paid for immediately so that they will be turned in to the Ariel office on time. A fine of twenty-five cents a day will be charged to each organization which has not paid Mr. Harwood for its picture by Monday, January 17.

On The Screen

One of the most charming comedies presented here in many a month, "For Wives Only," starring Marie Prevost and featuring Victor Varconi, who made such a hit in Cecil B. De Mille's production, "The Volga Boatman," was accorded an ovation at the Fischers Appleton Theater yesterday.

Miss Prevost is delightful and quite artistic as the wife of a physician of Vienna who, compelled to leave town on a business trip, leaves his bride in the care of three of his best friends.

Mr. Varconi, as the husband, is manly and thoroughly convincing. In the supporting cast are such artists as Arthur Hoyt who provide many laughs.

Shorty Sherger First Blue Athlete To Win Four Letters

A recent article in the Lawrentian, stating that "Snookie" Heideman was the first and only four-letter man ever turned out at Lawrence, will have to be modified since evidence of a convincing nature seems to show that "Shorty" Sherger, Blue athlete in the dark ages from 1907 to 1911, succeeded in capturing four of the elusive "L's", thereby establishing a precedent for Lawrence athletes.

From the musty files of the 1907 Lawrentian, we find that "Shorty" played center on the football and basketball teams, starred in the high hurdles, high jump, and broad jump, and played various positions on the baseball team, which was then considered a major athletic activity. For his work in each of these forms of athletic competition he was awarded an "L" for three straight years, which, with the two letters won during his first year, give him a grand total of fourteen letters, a record which has not been equalled in the past and which is likely to stand for some time in the future.

Sherger is still an enthusiastic follower of Blue athletic activities. He is a regular rooter at all of the Blue "big" games, and is said to have been immensely pleased to see the Catlinites trounce the old Lawrence rival, Beloit, by such a decisive score this fall.

Since the time of Sherger many two-letter and even three-letter men have been produced at Lawrence, but in all the history of spectacular individual athletic achievement of Blue "stars" no record is found of a second four-letter man until the appearance in 1923 of the diminutive but plucky Heideman who battled his way to "L's" in four different sports—football, basketball, track, and tennis. Thus the distinction of winning official athletic letters in four sports is held jointly by "Shorty" Sherger of Evansville, Illinois, and "Snookie" Heideman of Appleton.

Display Inter-Greek Trophies At Hyde's

The cups and trophies for the 1926-27 interfraternity sports are on display at Hyde's Jewelry shop.

A large all-sport trophy for the winner of the year's interfraternity program of sports, is the feature of the collection. A cup for second place will also be awarded this year as an additional incentive to the cliff-dwellers.

A new feature in the awards for the year will be a cup or trophy for every sport. This group includes cups for golf, volleyball, bowling, basketball, baseball, relay, and free-throwing. In past seasons cups were awarded for only the major fraternity sports.

These trophies were purchased by the athletic board.

The sophomores defeated the freshmen in the first match of the volleyball tournament Tuesday, winning the first two games by scores of 15-2 and 15-5.

The lineup was as follows: freshmen—Fullerton, Ruberg, Hubbard, Brooks, Gilman, Warren, Ziegler, Captain Howser, and Gaelzer; sophomores—Greunke, E. Smith, Perschbacher, Lockard, Niess, Frederickson, Captain Metzger, Christman, and Hass.

The final match of the tournament will be played on Thursday.

Increase Equipment For Winter Sports

Three new pairs of skis have been added to W.A.A. equipment since vacation. There are now six pairs that may be used at any time, with Miss Wisner's permission.

The outdoor winter sport program has several interesting features. Skating, skiing, and tobogganing parties, and a possible skating match, are planned for the early part of next semester. A sleighride party to the lake, with a steak fry at a cottage, is the outstanding feature of the plans for February activity.

A. Galpin's Sons

Our weekly lesson in economy is the example of a certain noble upper-classman, whose fur coat disappeared at the same time her little sister appeared with a new one. We wonder how much she was allowed on the old one.

We understand that the author (if he may be so called) of "A Trip to Lawrence" has been getting panned by several august members of the faculty who feel they were not appropriately mentioned (as they themselves admit they should have been mentioned) in the collegiate tour. All of which goes to prove the writer's statement that the Lawrence faculty is made up of persons who are "men and women first, and teachers afterwards."

We are going to discontinue the offering of our weekly prizes. You see, we offered our Christmas necktie for the prize dumb crack in the first issue, and lo and behold the coed is still pestering us for the tie. We fooled her because we didn't get a tie for Christmas, but we may not always be so fortunate.

The Senior was surprised upon entering his fraternity house to discover the Sophomores clustered around the fireplace while newspapers and magazines littered the floor. Said he "This looks like hell!"

"I presume," said one of the Sophs, "That you have been there, and that you know what that place is like?"

"Oh, yes," replied the Senior, "It's very much like this—all the Sophomores nearest the fire."

As far as engagements are concerned, the new year started off with a bang. And it isn't leap year either.

We wonder if the faculty is going to provide an interpreter to assist students in understanding the new ex-

Sunset Club Is All
Set For Annual Play

Final arrangements for the presentation of "The Goose Hangs High" were made at a meeting of Sunset Players held Thursday evening, January 13. The play will be presented January 21 at the chapel.

The program for the evening was a one-act play, "A Matter of Choice," by William J. Farma. The play was directed by Verel Knaup, assisted by Agnes MacInnis, who had charge of make-up. This play was the fourth of a series which have been presented at Sunset meetings.

Members of the cast were Sophia Haase, Eunice Matheson, Gladys Rydeen, Helen Upham, Eunice Davis, Oscar Fredericksen, and Frank Seaden.

The play was also presented at convocation Friday morning.

am schedule. Since we first gazed upon the notice, our nights have been endless nightmares, where M.W.F. chases T.T.S. through a forest of numerals, while T.T. looks sadly on.

As we go to press, we wonder what will be done with the poor Ariel. After struggling along so feebly for years—and if you ever worked on the staff you know what a struggle it is—the poor old thing is to have financial support. Well, hoo-ray.

We dislike to think of it—but those $*%&@*! exams are getting closer and closer. 'Nuff said.
